

White House, McCarthy Tangle

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—I'm a bit ashamed to admit it but I'm going to spend a portion of the Memorial Day holiday hoeing my garden.

Unless I'm bitten by a cutworm, I shall wind up the holiday a non-fatality—uncrippled and unharmed by the crush of auto traffic.

Frankly, I'm a bit shy about moving into the highways on holidays. The wire services this morning carried a story about the expected holiday crush—the movement of Chicagoans out of the city for a weekend in the country.

If Chicagoans are so all-fired interested in their countryside, I'm sure that I'm interested also. So I'll stay at home and enjoy what others are driving miles to see.

I'm beginning to associate Memorial Day with auto races and not the one at Indianapolis. I can envision long lines of traffic at intersections, the speedway-like zooming of auto motors on the straight-aways, and the inevitable pileups at the roadside.

Then there'll be the drone of radio announcers telling everyone of the catastrophes that are about to take place, or the carnage that is taking place. I'm sure I will be spared these admonitions if I stick to my cabbage.

What I really mean to say is by staying home and picknicking in our beautiful countryside, we can enjoy a nerve-resting holiday.

I'm sure that everyone who may be reading this has at one time or another realized that driving miles for a holiday weekend is an exhausting business. You've said often, probably, that you wished you had stayed at home and roasted a hot dog in the local park, which you don't visit enough anyway.

This is not a plug for any local government agency in the strict sense of the meaning. They make no profit whether you stay here or wander afar. All they have to interest you is a bundle of beautiful nature—and it's free for the taking.

Because they are devoted to protecting what nature has given us, the park district board and others who work in our parks to preserve their beauty will accept as a reward the fact that you come to those preserves and enjoy the great outdoors.

It's a pretty good idea—this stay-off-the-highways theory. C.J.C.

Glad to See You!

Charles Keys of Whittier, Calif., must find it very nice to come back to his old hometown after an absence of just 24½ years.

It's grand to find such cordiality as he walks down the street and to be greeted by old friends.

Charley Keys—glad to see you! You don't look a day older than when you left us. California has been truly good to you.

Mr. Keys is accompanied by his wife. They left California by motor some four weeks ago and have visited many places of interest en route.

They are as happy to be in Dixon as their friends are to have them.

The Keys family for many years conducted a furniture store recently occupied by the Mellott Furniture Co. After moving to California, Mr. Keys entered the real estate business, becoming one of the most successful operators in his section. M.S.S.

Lincoln Scouts Map Paper Drive

The Cub Scout pack of Lincoln school will conduct a waste paper drive in the Lincoln school district Saturday, starting at 9 a.m.

Householders in that district are asked to bundle or box paper and make it available to the trucks that will cover the area.

Pamela Pins a Poppy

PRETTY PAMELA SUE FARLEY, 5, Dixon, pins a Buddy Poppy on Mayor William Slothower thus inaugurating Poppy Day sales which will occur in Dixon Saturday. The Veterans of Foreign Wars is sponsoring the drive this year. Pamela is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farley, Dixon. In accepting the poppy, the mayor said, "I hope that by the time this campaign is over, every person in our community will be wearing a Buddy Poppy, just as all of the men of the Veterans of Foreign Wars so proudly wore their uniforms in time of war. Let us not forget these men for because of their efforts we are still a free nation."

Contradictions in Probe Continue Cohn Disputes Testimony On Commission for Schine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn today disputed army versions of his efforts to get an officer's commission for his wealthy friend, G. David Schine, and of his anger when barred from secret radar laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

And he declared flatly that Sen. McCarthy never in his presence requested a commission for Schine.

THURSDAY DEVELOPMENTS—Thursday developments in the Army-McCarthy hearing are included in a story on Page 16 of this issue of The Telegraph.

—thus taking issue with Secretary of the Army Stevens. Stevens had testified his recollection was that McCarthy did make such a request at a breakfast Sept. 16 in the New York apartment of Schine's parents.

As to the Monmouth incident, Cohn acknowledged he was angry, and said he didn't recall all he said, but he insisted he had not in fact "declared war" on the Army.

Jenkins Questions—Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee, cross-examined Cohn at some length about the incident last Oct. 20 when Secretary Stevens refused to clear Cohn for admission to the laboratory.

"And you declared war on the Army, didn't you?" asked Jenkins.

"No, sir," Cohn replied.

Col. Kenneth Belieu, aide of Stevens, testified earlier in the week at the subcommittee's televised hearings into the McCarthy-Army row that Cohn "blew his top" and declared, "This is it, this is war with the Army."

The officer also quoted Cohn as saying, "We'll investigate the heck out of you."

No Dispute—Cohn said that he would not dispute Belieu's testimony that he was angry, but he testified that he thought the colonel was correct in some of the words he attributed to him and incorrect about others.

Jenkins referred to the officer's testimony that Cohn had said "This is war with the Army."

"I have no recollection of those words," Cohn replied.

"You don't deny it?" asked Jenkins.

Cohn replied that he came "pretty close" to denying it. He said he had since talked to Harold Rainville, an aide to Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), and Robert Jones, a former aide of Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), and

Tail of Tornado Lashes Aurora, Northern Illinois

AURORA, Ill.—The tail of a small tornado whiplashed this part of Northern Illinois Thursday night, damaging some homes and felling hundreds of trees and utility poles.

Thundershowers, strong winds and hail swept other parts of the state. Lightning broke a three-foot hole in the roof of a two-story house in Chicago's South Side.

No injuries were reported in the state.

This section about 40 miles due west of Chicago was hardest hit. The tornado first struck in Kaneville, about 20 miles northwest of Aurora, where it unroofed six shacks and tore down some trees.

Then the tail end of the twister hit here. It tore the roof off the home of William Russell, causing damage estimated at $3,000. It felled trees and utility poles and tore down power lines.

Aurora police said stacks of trees blocked the city's streets. Two trucks worked late into the night clearing the streets.

Rain and hail caused postponement of the State High School Baseball Tournament at Peoria.

Gusts up to 50 miles an hour were recorded at O'Hare and Midway airports in Chicago.

Lightning struck a utility pole on the southwest corner of 87th Street and Kedzie Avenue in Chicago, throwing power lines to the street. Traffic was disrupted.

Chicago police and fire departments reported a total of between 50 and 60 calls reporting storm damage.

Damage in the Aurora area was estimated at thousands of dollars. Eight houses were unroofed there. A large tree landed on top of the home of Ivan Van Dorn in Aurora.

Hailstones tore down awnings in Blackhawk Heights, 19 miles west of Chicago.

The fire department reported eight homes were struck by lightning in Chicago.

Dixon Plans Parade, Services For Memorial Day Homage

Yearly Event Will Be Held Here Monday

Parade to Wind Up With Oakwood Cemetery Program

Dixon Memorial association today announced plans for the annual Memorial day activities including a parade and services in honor of those who died for their country.

The parade will begin Monday at 10:15 a.m., and the program will be held in Oakwood cemetery at 10:30 a.m.

Everett Harman, Dixon, has been named parade marshal by the memorial association. Association officials said all organizations taking part in the parade will meet at First street and Highland avenue.

Line of March—The line of march will lead the parade east on First street to Galena avenue, south on Galena to Second street, east on Second to Dement avenue and south on Dement to Oakwood cemetery.

Bernard J. Frazer, principal of Dixon high school, will deliver the main address of the program. The EMMERT PROGRAM—NACHUSA — (Special) — A Memorial day program will be held in Emmert cemetery Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Franklin Grove American Legion, post will be in charge of the service, and the Rev. Rudolf Markwald will be the speaker.

Rev. Donald Littlejohn will give the invocation and Roger Hof will read the general order of the day. The Dixon Municipal band will play "America" to begin the program and "The Star Spangled Banner" after a salute by a firing squad. "Taps" played by Harold Frans and Don Phillips will conclude the program.

Anyone desiring transportation to the cemetery is asked to meet across the street from Hotel Dixon at 9:45 a.m.

Meet at Flag Pole—All children in the parade will meet on the north side of the courthouse by the flag pole at 10:15 a.m. Flags will be given to them by Eta Chi chapter of Beta Sigma sorority.

The order of march will be as follows:

Parade marshal and aides, Dixon Municipal band, Grand Army of the Republic cars, GAR auxiliary cars, United Spanish-American war veterans cars, Veterans of Foreign Wars, VFW auxiliary, American Legion, American Legion auxiliary, Amvets, Amvets auxiliary, Dixon State school band, State school veterans, city officials and guests, State school Boy Scouts' drum and bugle corps, State school Boy Scouts, Dixon Boy Scouts, Dixon Cub Scouts, Dixon Girl Scouts, Dixon Girl Scout Brownies, fraternal organizations and school children.

All chairmen of the organizations are to report to the parade marshal when forming at First street and Highland avenue.

Plan Open House—The VFW will hold open house for all veterans organizations Monday. VFW members will meet in their hall at 9:15 a.m. Monday.

Dixon area servicemen and veterans who have died since last Memorial day are as follows:

Oakwood Cemetery—Spanish American—James Vincent Gotton.

World War I—William Harold Barnes, Lee William Clayton and Maj. Samuel Fiske (Fiske also served in Spanish-American war).

World War II—William Downs, William R. Fiegeley Jr., Lester C. Johnson and Richard Jessie.

Korean—John Leslie Blum.

Chapel Hill Cemetery—World War I—Henry Walter. World War II—Herbert Reeder. Korean—William Donald Hansen.

Emmert Cemetery (Nachusa)—Korean—Robert A. Missman.

President Eisenhower has designated.

BRODIE TWIN GETS ACQUAINTED AT HOME—Rodney Dee Brodie, survivor of the Siamese twins whose joined skulls were separated by surgery, sniffs a tulip and tells his father, "I'm smelling candy" in flower as he gets acquainted at the family home in Ferris, Ill. Not yet three, Rodney has had more than a dozen operations to cover his brain with skin and wears a crash helmet to protect his head from bumps. Although he must undergo more surgery, he can take his place in the family and play normally. His twin brother died after the original operation separated their skulls. Carrier Death Total Now 95

Adm. Carney Calls Fire, Blast 'Freakish, Unique'

QUONSET POINT, R. I.—The death toll mounted today in the explosion disaster of the aircraft carrier Bennington as additional critically burned seamen succumbed at Newport Naval hospital.

The number of dead stood at 95 this morning. Nearly 40 are still in critical condition.

Of the 201 injured, 82 were hospitalized at Newport Naval Hospital. Some may require plastic surgery so seriously were they burned.

Chief of naval operations Adm. Robert B. Carney surveyed the battered carrier Thursday and said he found "freakish and unique" effects of the explosions and fire.

He donned coveralls and spent an hour checking the blackened compartments of the 32,000-ton vessel, which was hit by ton-explained blasts early Wednesday.

He said he saw "fabrics and structural objects near one another, some showing effects of heat and others no heat at all."

In other places, he said, there was evidence of "tremendous pressures and other signs of complete vacuum."

He said the explosions were "the worst I have seen in all my naval service."

He declined to speculate on the cause. The Navy court of inquiry will open its investigation Saturday.

Bolt Strikes Kewanee Church

KEWANEE, Ill.—Lightning struck the First Methodist Church in Kewanee Thursday, causing a fire which damaged the roof and a valuable pipe organ. The pastor, Dr. Loyal M. Thompson, estimated the damage at nearly $50,000.

Foresighted

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Harold Rothman, admitting he is "foresighted, to say the least," filed a location notice here for 100,000 acres of the moon.

The claim was accepted by the Maricopa county recorder's office yesterday.

School Board Hires Asst. To Supt.

Southern Illinois Man Employed to Aid Lancaster

The Dixon board of education in a special meeting Thursday night unanimously approved Sherwood Dees, Olyn, to be assistant superintendent for the school district.

The position is newly-created post in the school administrative staff. Dees will aid Supt. A. H. Lancaster.

Dees has had 12 years of administrative experience with four years as an elementary school principal and eight years as high school principal. He served in those posts at Washington grade school, Washington; Metamora Township high school, Metamora; Fairbury high school, and East Richland high school, Olyn, in southern Illinois. M. A. at Illinois.

The new assistant received an A.B. degree from Illinois Wesleyan university in 1938 and an M.A. degree from University of Illinois in 1939. He also did graduate work in Bradley university.

While in Olyn, Dees has been manager of the Illinois High School Association sectional speech contest, regional and sectional basketball tournaments and district music contests. He is president of the North Egypt athletic conference, chairman of the Richland county rehabilitation case conference committee, vice president of Olyn Rotary club and president of East Richland Education association. He has been active in national and state education groups.

Has Four Children—He is married and has four children, Katherine, 10; Sherry, 7; James, 3, and Susan, 16 months. Mrs. Dees is a University of Illinois graduate and a former teacher.

John Culley, board secretary, said the board "hopes and expects" to send draftees to Indochina. That would be an explosive change in policy.

Only Pros Sent—The only men who actually will be sent to Indochina to fight the Communist-led Vietnamese will be professional soldiers. A French law of 1950 prevents the sending of draftees to fight outside France.

The hurriedly called up remnants of the 1954 calls will be stationed in France or quiet areas in North Africa to replace professional soldiers sent to Indochina. The Cabinet spokesman did not give any indication that the Cabinet had discussed changing the 1950 law.

There was no suggestion, however, that plans were in the wind

Senator Can't Usurp Power Of Executive

Senator Says He'll Continue to Seek Tips on Treason

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today directly disputed the declaration by Sen. McCarthy that it is the duty of federal workers to report to congress what they may know of Communism, treason or other crimes.

In a statement issued at the White House, Atty. Gen. Brownell said the constitution gives the executive branch of the government the "sole and fundamental" responsibility for enforcement of laws and presidential orders, including those to protect the nation's security.

"Can't Be Usurped"

"That responsibility," Brownell said, "can't be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land or to override orders of the President of the United States to federal employees of the executive branch of the government."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty read the statement to reporters at the White House. The statement itself did not mention McCarthy but Hagerty said it referred to McCarthy's remarks at the army-McCarthy hearings Thursday when McCarthy said:

"As far as I'm concerned, I would like to notify those two million federal employees that I feel it is their duty to give us any information which they have about graft, corruption, Communists, treason and that there is no loyalty to a superior which can tower above and beyond their loyalty to their country."

McCarthy Firm—Told of the statement, McCarthy said at the Capitol he is going to continue to get information from within the government whenever he can, and protect the sources of that information.

"I hope to remain in the senate and see many presidents come and go," he told newsmen. "Regardless of who is in the White House—and there is nothing personal involved in this—as chairman of the senate investigations subcommittee I am charged with the important duty of giving the American people a clear picture of the operations of their government."

"I will continue to get information from every source possible on graft, corruption, communism and treason and continue to expose them."

McCarthy said he did not dispute Brownell's stand that the attorney general is charged with enforcing the laws. He said the committee's responsibility, however, "is to expose any cases where there is failure to enforce the laws."

"Only those with something to hide can worry about what the committee exposes," he declared.

Receives Queries—Hagerty said he had received queries from newspapers for comment on McCarthy's remarks.

"I talked this morning with the President and the attorney general," Hagerty said, "and at the direction of the attorney general I should like now to issue the following statement in his name with the approval of the President."

Hagerty then dictated the following from notes:

"The obligations and duties of the executive, judicial, and legislative branches of our government

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

THE THRESHOLD!

The Baccalaureate speaker was right. This was the threshold of life. Beyond today, spanning the years, were many paths each leading to a different goal. Someone in Bob Adams' position need only to choose his path.

Bob wasn't frightened. The choice would not be difficult. In fact, it had already been made.

Not that anyone had told Bob which profession to follow . . . which opportunity would be most rewarding. No! Those decisions were not yet final. . . .

But one decision was final. He had made it some years before —on the day he had become a member of the Church.

Bob had decided to build his life on faith . . . on the principles the Church had instilled in his conscience . . . on the truth and the power and the love of JESUS CHRIST. Bob Adams had chosen HIS Path!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Need Federal Aid Now to Ease Classroom Shortage

A government survey shows that in the school year just closing there was a deficit of nearly 350,000 classrooms. The likelihood is the situation will get worse as the children of World War II marriages stream through the school doors.

Currently before the senate labor and public welfare committee is a proposal authorizing federal aid to the states for new school construction. If this measure were to be approved by congress, and implemented by direct appropriations, a healthy start could be made toward licking this problem.

However, Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby of the department of health, education and welfare has asked that action be delayed. She wants to wait until planned White House and state conferences on the situation can be held, so a more accurate gauge can be put on the ability of local communities to meet construction needs.

There would seem not the slightest reason to doubt Mrs. Hobby's good faith in this matter. Her request for a postponement does not make her an enemy of new school construction, as some of her critics seem to suggest.

But, assuming the best of motives, the effect of a postponement by congress on federal aid would be to increase the classroom deficit through the 1954-55 season, with damaging result upon the educational opportunities of hundreds of thousands of youngsters.

There is always a certain lag between the voting of appropriations and the start of authorized projects, and obviously school buildings cannot be thrown up overnight like tents. If federal action is put off until the 1955 session of congress, the prospects are that the benefits of any aid will not be felt in the form of new schoolrooms until some time in 1956—possibly even later.

In and around congress are some pretty ingenious bill-drafters. If one of these cannot come up with a federal aid formula flexible enough to accommodate to later information on local community resources, then the craft of lawmaking is sagging badly.

The senate and house ought to approve now some such flexible plan, and initial appropriations should be voted. Cramped quarters can produce cramped minds. Delay may put an ineradicable scar upon our youth.

It is better to move fast and err on the side of spending too much, than to delay and deprive America's young people of an opportunity that, for them, may never come again in quite the same way.

These Acts by Husbands Don't Help Wives' Ego

Memo to men: These are all blows to a woman's ego:

After spending hours in a beauty shop, she greets her homecoming husband with a freshly lip-sticked smile and his first remark is, "What's for dinner?"

After getting the children to bed early and planning a special dinner for two, complete with candlelight, her husband turns on the lights, remarking: "Is there any law against seeing what you're eating?"

After washing and ironing the living room curtains, laundering slip covers and waxing the furniture until it gleams, her husband comes home, looks around and asks, "What've you been doing all day?"

Though the wife is a blonde, when her husband gives his highest approval of another woman's looks she is invariably a brunette.

TOO "BUSY" TO LOOK
She asks, "Do you like my hair this way?" He says, "Sure, it looks fine," without even glancing up from his paper to see if she is wearing a pony tail or the Italian cut.

He talks as though his secretary were a marvel because she can handle the routine business of the office. Then he doesn't even say "nice going" when his wife has to do a buffet supper or straightens out a jam that Junior has gotten into at school.

He asks for and takes her advice on a business matter and forgets she had anything to do with his decision when it turns out to be a smart move.

When a woman labels herself "just a housewife" it is usually because her husband is suffering from just such ordinary letdowns as these.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Behind the Screens: Sagebrush operas, in which the hero galloped into the sunset as he strummed his guitar, aren't the only westerns marked "Gone But Not Forgotten" in Hollywood's cemetery of unmarketable movies. Even the big-spectacle hayburners, with millions of cowboys and redskins shooting it up, are on their way out, claims Producer Harry Joe Brown, "unless they have strong stories."

"Hollywood's getting away from Indians and epics of the west, and swinging over to close personal relations between people in westerns. A conflict between two men is more important than a 10-minute fight with screaming Indians."

RITA HAYWORTH is blaming former business manager Jackson Leichter for those rumors that she and Dick Haymes will go to Italy to make films for Rossellini. She's under exclusive contract to Columbia and the studio would lower the boom on her if she made a picture under any other banner.

It's not going to help anti-Hollywood feeling in London one bit when Producer George Minter airs his beef about temperamental Movietown stars, to the British Film Producers' Association. Some of the U.S. stars expected to be blasted for foot-stamping diodes in London:

Bette Davis, Gloria Grahame and Dana Andrews.
Bette, by the way, was offered $125,000 in salary to star in "The Story of Esther Costello." She passed the part right back to the producer when he didn't see eye-to-eye with her about the director. Bette is ready to resume her career, but only if there's perfection in every department.

BRODERICK CRAWFORD will be the star of a telenovela series about the behind-the-scenes work of the U.S. Secret Service. Title: "Secret Service Agent." . . . Shelley Winters has organized a telenovela company for a comedy series, "Women of the World."

Pat O'Brien has dropped out as front man for a new Las Vegas hotel. But two other Hollywoodites, Harpo and Gummio Marx, have money in the soon-to-be-built Casablanca hotel there.

Science-fiction note: One hundred midgies will play the lunar visitors in the Johnny Weissmuller starrer, "Jungle Jim and the Moon Men." . . . The Chaplin jinx has finally caught up with Claire Bloom. She hasn't made a flicker since her James Mason co-starrer, "The Man Between," more than a year ago.

Amanda Blake and ABC television director Don Whitman will wed. She just completed a role in "Hajji Baba."

NOW IT CAN be told that Joan Crawford has been holding the ice-bag to her classic forehead since Sterling Hayden's comment: "I've had all I want to do with working with Miss Crawford and I don't care to continue the contact."

When Joan heard about his barbecue of her, she directed her press agent to try to persuade him to deny that he had said it or to change the wording. But Sterling, her "Johnny Guitar" costar, refused to back down.

Frank Morgan's widow, Alma, and vocal coach Werner Thiel are a buzz in Palm Springs. Her first romantic interest since Frank's death, . . . The gallery proofs of Lillian Roth's biography, "I'll Cry Tomorrow," are showing up around Hollywood studios and there's celluloid interest. . . . Columbia costume designer Jean Louis' Paris visit soon will include, he says, an altar march with French actress Suzanne Autier.

Cecil B. DeMille's still chuckling.

He asked Vanessa Brown if she could fill out the clinging, revealing Egyptian costumes in "The Ten Commandments" in the spectacular manner of Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell.

Vanessa assured him that nature hadn't short-changed her anywhere.

Colossus of Foreign Trade

The Doctor Says:

To Remove Large Stones From the Bladder Operation Is Usually Considered Necessary

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Everyone is agreed that medicine has made great strides and can do more for people than ever before. However, there are a good many things which are still not possible:

Q—I recently had some X-rays taken which revealed a stone about the size of a bird's egg in my urinary bladder. Can this be dissolved by medication or removed any way except by operation? G. D.

A—There is no likelihood that this can be dissolved by any medicine which can be given you. It can be removed by operation and in some cases it can be crushed where it lies in the urinary bladder and removed in small bits without cutting.

Q—Could you tell me if there is any proven medicine which helps in causing pregnancy? Mrs. J. C.

A—There is not.

Q—I see many people walking in the streets who are constantly wiping their eyes because they seem to be watering too much. Can you discuss this? E. B.

A—In many people the eyes will water for a variety of reasons: Emotions, like sadness or joy, may cause crying; changes of temperature, bright sunlight, irritating dust or other substances in the air also often lead to excessive watering of the eyes. Perhaps in your area there is something in the atmosphere from smoke or fumes which cause an unusually large proportion of people to have watering of the eyes.

Q—I have an umbilical hernia and I am also pregnant. Will this harm the baby in any way? Mrs. J. K.

A—The baby will not be harmed, but the hernia in the mother should be closely watched.

Q—Would you please discuss a hypochondriac? Reader.

A—A hypochondriac is a person suffering from hypochondria, an abnormal anxiety about one's health. It is a state of mind to be avoided.

Q—Can you tell me what is the cause of lack of pigment in my arms, hands, legs, feet and under my eyes? Is there anything I can do about it? S. R.

A—This is probably the condition known as leukoderma or vitiligo. Its cause is not known, but in some there may be an inherited predisposition. Occasionally loss of skin pigment results from some special circumstance of exposure to chemical substances so that a diagnosis is probably desirable. Medical treatments have not been particularly successful.

Q—Can a woman become pregnant after her uterus is out if she still has her ovaries? My friend and I have had a terrible misunderstanding about it. I said "no" and she claims "yes." Mrs. M. E.

A—Pregnancy occurs in the uterus, and, therefore, it is not possible after this organ has been removed. You are correct.

Q—Can you give me advice for the care of my hair, or if not, refer me to someone who can? My hair is not dry, but breaks off at various lengths. Distressed Reader.

A—This is probably a disease of the hair or scalp. A skin specialist (dermatologist) would be most likely to help you.

What's Right?

When your wife asks you to take her out, there's not much point in going if you grumble about it first. Why save your good manners and charm for outsiders when they would be even more appreciated at home?

Your wife's worth impressing, too.

Pittsburgh Bus Strike In 3rd Week

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A pert blonde, busily chewing gum, smiles brightly and cheerfully raises her thumb to hitch a ride to work.

An elderly steelworker, a lunch box tucked under his arm, stands on the corner waiting for a fellow worker to come by in his auto.

Two teen-age boys, whistling snatches of the latest hit parade tunes, stroll block after block toward school.

All are familiar sights in this bustling industrial metropolis, without trolleys and most of its buses for nearly three weeks as the result of an AFL operators' strike.

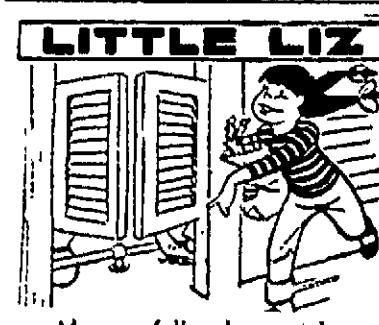

Almost everyone is taking the tleup in stride. If they can't find other means of transportation, resident walk or hitchhike.

Commuter trains, independent buses, lines, taxicabs and private autos are taking up the transportation slack. That's a pretty big job in a city of 700,000—12th largest in the nation—which is the center of a metropolitan area with more than two million population.

Car pools have been formed in many neighborhoods and share-the-ride stations have been set up at some taxicab stands.

However, the strike is felt keenly by merchants in the Golden Triangle. Estimates of the drop in business range as high as 50 per cent.

Some 2,700 trolley and bus operators struck Pittsburgh Railways Co. May 9 to enforce demands for a 30-cent hourly wage increase and other benefits. The company said it just can't afford to grant any economic gains this year under the existing fare structure.

Many a fellow has got by on poor English. If his Scotch was good.

The Mature Parent

Don't Be Tricked by Words That Hide Child's Needs

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Remember that when your child is most demanding and defiant, he is in most need of your reassurance and love."

Perhaps no sentence in the child guidance books has so frustrated parents as this one.

Reading it, we recall yesterday's attempt to soothe our screaming, kicking son in the grocery store.

We remember last night's effort to break through the sullenness of the daughter denied permission to wear her new Sunday dress to school this morning.

And the idea that these two angry people have been pining for our "reassurance and love" seems about as silly an idea as we've ever heard.

Without quite knowing what we're thinking, we think to ourselves: "I guess there's something different and wrong about me. There must be something peculiarly revolting about my reassurance and love because infuriated children certainly seem to want no part of them."

That is not true. We learn that isn't when we discover how often we ourselves use angry words to demand one thing when we really want another, when we begin to realize how often human beings use such words to hide themselves from each other.

What, for instance, do we say when our children's father telephones to tell us he won't be home for dinner? With tension and resentment in our words, we say, "I'm having roast lamb for supper. You know that because I told you so this morning. I guess you don't care what trouble I go to. I'm getting sick of planning for nothing."

But is eating roast lamb what we really want of our husband? Isn't "Have you stopped loving me, Bill?" Is there another woman you like better than me? Please tell me that we are dear and close to one another because lately I've begun to fear that we are not. . . .

Why do we speak the accusing superficial words into the telephone instead of the true ones?

For the same reason exactly that our angrily demanding child cannot speak his true ones to us, too.

Once we know it's the same reason, his false, angry words no longer deceive us.

If he shoves us off, we are not hurt, but tender toward him. If he continues to attack us, we just wait until the attack is over.

For we have outgrown our child's awe of human speech and can no longer be tricked by words that mistranslate our universal need to say, "I want your reassurance. I need your love."

Questions and Answers

Q—Did the guaranty against self-incrimination, embodied in the Fifth Amendment, originate in this country?
A—No. It originated in England.

Q—Can an individual sue the United States government?
A—Yes.

Q—Which is the most important cultivated grass in North America today?
A—Timothy.

Q—How are chairmen of committees in Congress chosen?
A—Usually by length of service on the committee.

Q—Why was the Chicago river made to change its direction?
A—Before construction of the drainage canal changing the river's course, Chicago's sewage was dumped into Lake Michigan. This caused pollution of the drinking water used in the city water system.

Toll Road Commission Reveals Early Planning

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Toll Road Commission today released a map showing recommended expressway systems.

The release came in advance of a meeting between the commission and Gov. Stratton to decide which of the pay-as-you-drive turnpikes would be given building priority.

On the map, drawn from a feasibility study by engineers, the commission projected those roads up for first priority consideration and those seen as possible future links in a state expressway system.

Given Prominence

Prominent among route proposals expected to be assigned priority today were those in a series called the "in-state turnpike." These radiated from a route circling Chicago on the west and ran out:

1. To a point west of Danville.
2. Toward Beloit, Wis., on a route running near Rockford.
3. Toward Milwaukee, Wis.
4. To the Rock Island-Moline area.

Others under top priority consideration were the old National Trail Turnpike from East St. Louis toward Terre Haute, Ind., a route paralleling Route 66 from Mount Olive to East St. Louis and a route paralleling Route 66 from Gardner around Joliet and to Chicago.

More Proposals

Looking much farther into the future of possible Illinois toll road construction, the commission put on the map these route proposals which are not expected to be considered today:

1. Northern Illinois turnpike: East Dubuque through a point near Freeport to Rockford.

are defined by the constitution. "The executive branch of the government has the sole and fundamental responsibility under the Constitution for the enforcement of our laws and presidential orders. They include those to protect the security of our nation which were carefully drawn for this purpose.

Mr. Responsibility

"That responsibility can't be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land or to override orders of the President of the United States to federal employees of the executive branch of the government."

Questioned further on the latter quotation, Hagerty said it had reference to both laws on the statute books making it illegal to give classified information to persons not authorized to receive it, and presidential directives on security matters.

People Dominate Issues In McCarthy-Army Feud

Cohn Contradicts Army in First Full Day on Stand

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The people in the disjunct, mixed-up and sometimes almost disorderly McCarthy-Army hearings have all but overshadowed the issues.

Some of the most unpredictable among the people involved still face their big test: Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.); his subcommittee counsel, Roy M. Cohn; Special Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch, and Ray Jenkins, special counsel for the Senate Investigating subcommittee.

No one will have to testify as long as Robert T. Stevens, the dignified secretary of the Army, who was often vague and so consistently placid under McCarthy's jibes that he looked dull.

Some Contrast

When Army Counsel John G. Adams took the stand he provided some contrast, but not much. His precision was almost pedantic. He answered with an unemotional, brittle voice as if he were in a classroom explaining a problem in arithmetic.

While these two almost colorless men occupied the center of the stage for weeks, they looked like backdrops for more vivid people around them.

Perhaps no one in a Senate hearing ever got so much personal publicity for saying so little as Welch, the 64-year-old Boston lawyer who makes a habit of bowing and pushing his upper lip with a forefinger.

With his head cocked in a bird-like attentiveness, Welch sat day after day beside his client, Stevens, and in his eyes there was the skeptical and detached look of a man watching magicians through a window.

Witty, Gracious

Witty, gracious and almost "antique" in his speech, Welch might have helped Stevens more if he had been less detached. Through the days that McCarthy pounded at Stevens, belittling his honesty and his intelligence, Welch seldom said anything. He could have interrupted to clarify a point, slow up McCarthy or give Stevens a rest.

His gentleness and reticence raise questions about his ability to handle McCarthy when it comes time to cross-examine the senator. This job will be to make McCarthy look like a liar, since this whole case is a problem in who's lying.

McCarthy has shown signs of losing his temper easily. Can Welch stand on this by getting McCarthy excited, crossing him up, confusing him, or putting him to rout? At this moment, Welch is an unknown quantity in this respect.

Wears Two Hats

Jenkins, apparently a warm and friendly man off-stage, has had to wear two hats, requiring a fast personality shift. First he must give each witness direct examination, acting like the man's own lawyer, letting the witness lay his case on the table in the best light.

Having done this, Jenkins immediately put on the hat of the cross-examiner.

He can be rough. He was criticized for treating Stevens like a convicted criminal.

The strong-jawed Jenkins, a Tennessean, is now about to collide with the McCarthy side as he moves toward cross-examination of Cohn and McCarthy. This will be a test for Jenkins, not only as a lawyer but perhaps as a man.

Will he tear into McCarthy and Cohn as freely and roughly as he did into Stevens and Adams? Or will McCarthy be able to awe him into timidity?

Cohn Cahn

Cohn, who has just started to testify, has looked calm and controlled so far. But he's only stating his case. He hasn't been cross-examined yet by Jenkins, Welch or the investigating senators.

Cohn showed earlier, when he was cross-examined briefly, that he can work up a big head of steam under pressure. He talked so fast and so much it was as if he were afraid there might not be enough time left to get out all he wanted to say.

And McCarthy? His political career may depend on what he says and how he says it when he goes under cross-examination. He's put this kind of heat on other people. What will he do when it happens to him?

Ethiopian Emperor Urges Collective Security Plan

WASHINGTON—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia declared today that no state, "large or small," can refuse the call of another for aid against aggression.

"I call upon the world," he said in a speech for a joint session of Congress, "for determination fearlessly to apply and to accept, as you and as we have accepted them, the sacrifices of collective security."

The erect, black-bearded African monarch, who is making an official visit to the United States, said the principle of collective security transcends geography and continued:

"We feel that nowhere can the call for aid against aggression be refused by any state large or small. It is either a universal principle or it is no principle at all. It cannot admit of regional application or be of regional responsibility. That is why we, like you, have sent troops halfway around the world to Korea."

When Italy invaded Ethiopia 16 years ago Selassie made an unsuccessful appeal to the League of Nations for help. Nonetheless the Emperor made clear today as he has before that he is still a strong believer in joint action.

Selassie also told Congress his country has made "enormous social, economic and material advances."

"We have thus become a land of expanding opportunities," he said, "where the American pioneering spirit, ingenuity and technical abilities have been and will continue to be welcomed."

Clear Ship Suspected of Arms Cargo

PANAMA CITY—French Line representatives on the hunt for contraband arms finished their search of the freighter Wyoming Thursday night without finding "anything abnormal."

While the Wyoming was held at the Atlantic mouth, a vast sea search is under way for two ships suspected of carrying more Communist arms to leftist Guatemala.

The Caribbean republic already has received a 2,000-ton arms shipment loaded at the Polish port of Stettin.

Customs men halted the Wyoming Wednesday as she headed for the canal en route to El Salvador and Guatemala with a cargo from London and Antwerp.

U. S. officials said the search was conducted with the full cooperation of the ship's owners and the French government.

There was no official announcement as to the results of the hunt, but the Panama Canal press office said the freighter's manifest listed six boxes of small arms, including one case of Browning automatic rifles consigned to El Salvador.

The BAR is a combat weapon. Guatemala, still nervous over a mystery plane which swooped over the capital Wednesday dropping anti-Communist leaflets, was dropping air service. The government ordered all airlines to bypass the capital.

Historians Offer Theories About Human Skeletons

WASHBURN, Ill. (AP)—Historians and archeologists have offered several possible solutions to the mystery of about 100 human skeletons found buried on a farm near this Woodstock, Ill. village.

The skeletons, buried in two pits a few feet apart, were found by Roland Braun, while plowing near Black Crow Creek.

Prof. John C. McGregor, University of Illinois archeologist, identified the bodies as those of Indians, mostly adults of both sexes but including a few children. He said they appeared to have been buried as bones, sometime after death.

No traces of pottery, arrow heads, beads, etc., makes dating of the period of their death almost impossible.

McGregor plans a further investigation at the site in the fall.

Might Have Starved C. C. Tisler of the Ottawa Republican-Times, an authority on Illinois history, today suggested the dead might have been victims of starvation or cannibalism during a great snow of 1774.

He suggested the newspaper files of 1873 and uncovered a story told by Perry Armstrong, a student of Illinois history, at a gathering at Starved Rock, near Ottawa.

Armstrong said the Shick Shack, a giant Indian, in the 1830s had told him of sufferings of the Indians of the Illinois River Valley in the winter of 1774.

Snow covered the Indian huts. Deer and other game died of starvation. Many of the Indians died. Some resorted to cannibalism.

The Indians discovered three deer approaching from the south. The Indians killed them, and then traveled southward, where they had been almost to the southern edge of the storm belt.

Tisler said another theory was that the Indians were victims of a massacre after a siege of the Fox Indians by allied French troops and Sauk Indians in 1730. He said, however, that Washburn is far from the previously reported sites of the siege and massacre — near Plano, near Arrowsmith, and near Lowell.

McGregor is following several clues. One is that the reputed site of a Chief Black Patridge's camp is near the burial site. He said excavation there may reveal that the dead belonged to an Indian culture that gave temporary burial above the ground, and in a later ceremony placed the bones underground.

'Teacher' of Dillinger Held For Store Holdup

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Edward Wilhelm Bentz, 58-year-old Chicago desperado who boasted he "taught" John Dillinger all he knew," pleaded guilty Thursday to the stickup of a country store.

Bentz admitted holding up the Pulaski-Chase Cooperative Store at Pulaski, Wis., May 18, obtaining $1,532. The FBI in Chicago said the comparatively small scale robbery was a come-down for Wilhelm, who has served time for several big Midwest bank robberies and once was known as the "king of the bank robbers."

After his arrest in his Chicago flat a week ago, Bentz waived extradition to Wisconsin.

Camp Ralston News

Sunday May 23 was final cleanup at the Ralston Scout Camp. Mrs. L. B. Cappa, Mrs. E. M. Bastian, Mrs. E. W. Jewett, and Mrs. O. M. Karaker cleaned the dining hall.

Mrs. Duncan Rowles, Mrs. Elmer Gasmund, Mrs. Leigh McGinnis and Mrs. E. W. Ferguson cleaned Harvey hall.

Pioneer Unit was cleaned of brush and dead trees by Jack Keegan's Boy Scouts plus Leigh McGinnis, Kenneth Huck, Clifford Kime, Carl Woessner, William Barthlemes and H. E. Bolen. Mrs. George Stiles and Mrs. Barthlemes helped at Pioneer and at various other places.

Several odd jobs were completed in the kitchen and dining hall by E. M. Bastian, E. W. Jewett, John Abbott, and Elmer Gasmund.

Arthur White used a bulldozer to cut down a bank near the stream used by the girls for wading. He also graded part of the roadway inside the camp grounds.

Trucks were donated by the day by Wilson Woodrow, Carl Woessner and Elmer Gasmund.

Several children whose parents were helping also helped with the lighter work.

The fire place in Harvey hall is being repaired by George Lindquist.

The camp committee would like to thank all of the people, who have contributed their time and effort in setting up Camp Ralston for the present camping season.

Richards to Shift Lineup At Baltimore

Kell Goes to Third; Cass Michaels to Start in Outfield

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, 1/2 game out of first place, will open a 19-game, 17-day tour of six cities Friday night with a two-night doubleheader at Baltimore—and George Kell will be on third base.

The slugging veteran, obtained for $100,000 and Grady Hatton from the Boston Red Sox last Sunday, will be joining the club for the first time.

Revise Lineup
Manager Paul Richards had an off day Thursday to mull over a revised batting order that has Kell batting fifth, Cass Michaels leading off and playing left field.

"We're strong at every position now and Phil Cavarretta should give us that extra wallop when we need it in the clutch," said Richards. "Michaels will be playing through the seventh and eighth innings before we take him out and put in either Johnny Groth or Jim Rivera for defensive purposes. My present plan is to leave Minnie Miñoso in right field permanently."

Cubs Come Home
Meanwhile, the home run-happy Chicago Cubs moved back to Wrigley Field to open a long home stand with Cincinnati Friday.

Hank Sauer walked his 14th homer and Ralph Kiner his seventh as the Cubs again trounced the Cardinals at St. Louis 7-3 Thursday. In all, the Cubs collected 12 hits in backing Bob Rush to his fourth triumph against three defeats.

Rush Tires
Rush yielded five hits but fared in the eighth and needed help from Warren Hacker.

The Cubs now have mauling National League pitchers for 52 homers in 37 games and if they continue their current pace will break the National League mark of 215 for a season.

All-American Net Singles Assured In French Meet

PARIS (AP)—An all-American men's singles final between Tony Trabert and Art Larsen is assured in the French International tennis tournament.

The doubles, too, could turn into an all-Yank affair. The top tandem match today brought together Trabert and Vic Seixas against the Australian combination of Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig. The other semi-final pitted Gardner Mulloy and Budge Patty against Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Trabert defeated Patty Thursday 6-1, 7-5, 6-4, and Larsen conquered Enrique Morea of Argentina 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, to move into the singles finals.

Maureen Connolly and Mrs. Ginette Bucaille are in the finals of the women's singles. Miss Connolly stopped Sylvania Lazzarino of Italy Thursday, 6-0, 6-1 and Mrs. Bucaille eliminated Mrs. Nelly Adamson, 6-2, 6-4.

Ike's Lucky for Senators; Baseball Senators, That Is

WASHINGTON (AP)—As far as Clark Griffith is concerned, President Eisenhower should show up daily to cheer on the Washington Senators.

Eisenhower saw the season opener which the Senators won from the New York Yankees 5-3. On his second 1954 appearance Thursday, the Senators thrashed the Yankees 7-3.

"When it was over, the chief executive turned to the 84-year-old Griffith and said with a chuckle: 'Well, I won two games for you. That's the least I can do.'"

Senator owner Griffith had written the President during a long losing streak that it appeared he'd better get out to the ball park to straighten things out.

The President was about as enthusiastic as any of the 21,763 paying customers for the contest which benefited the Red Cross by better than $17,000. Among the spectators was Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, now visiting this country.

Eisenhower presented Mickey Vernon, Washington first baseman, with a silver bat symbolizing the 1953 American League batting championship which Vernon won with a mark of .337.

Chuck Davey to Quit Fight Ring Makes It Official; Says Sport's Treated Him Well

CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck Davey told a news conference Thursday that he is hanging up his boxing gloves for good.

The announcement came as no surprise. Davey's manager, Hec Knowles, had said Wednesday night he was going to recommend it after Chuck's showing against Vince Martinez in Chicago Stadium.

Martinez, a rising welterweight from Paterson, N. J., floored the ex-Michigan State boxing champion four times and won by a seventh round TKO.

The balding Davey, 28, who has a master's degree in education, said "Boxing has been very rewarding to me. It enabled me to receive an education. It gave me a rich and varied experience. In no other business, at my age, could I have done so well."

Davey, whose pro record stands at five defeats and two draws in 48 starts and whose earnings have been estimated at $90,000 still is not through with television, the medium that built him up to a one-time national boxing hero.

"I'm going to try to break into the radio and television sports-casting field," he said. "I've had a sports show in my home town—Lansing, Mich.—for two years, and now I'd like to branch out."

MILE CLUB—The charter members of the new unofficial 140-mile Hour Club get together to autograph the helmet of the unofficial president, Jack McGrath at Indianapolis, Ind., May 27. McGrath (left) won the pole position for this year's 500-mile race with a qualification run at more than 140 m.p.h., and Cal Niday, Johnnie Parsons and Jimmy Daywalt (left to right) turned at least one lap each at 140 plus, a speed never reached until this year. Parsons was the 1950 winner. (AP wirephoto)

Hank Sauer Well Ahead of Babe's Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—It's a little too early to get excited about it, but Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs is well ahead of the pace Babe Ruth set when he hit his record 60 homers. The Bambino didn't slam his 14th until his 41st game. Sauer has 14 in 37. Stan Musial has hit 14 home runs in 40 games for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Peoria Central Upset in State Prep Ball Meet

PEORIA (AP)—Rain washed out Thursday night's two scheduled games in the state high school baseball tournament after Litchfield upset Peoria Central 5-1 and Bowen of Chicago downed Anna Jonesboro 4-1 in the afternoon.

New Trier will meet Thornton Fractional and Belleville will face Peoria Manual Friday afternoon, weather permitting, to complete the first round.

The semi-finals will be held Friday night with Litchfield meeting Bowen at 7 p.m. and the two afternoon winners meeting at 8 p.m.

SPORTS VISITORS HOME WHAT'S THE SCORE

There's a standing question at Dixon High school: Why doesn't the school sponsor a baseball program?

There are some standing answers. Like these: The sports department is predominantly track-minded and feels the baseball program would interfere with track. The two would conflict in the spring season and a summer program is impracticable.

The school's newspaper, "The Dixini" tackled the question this week and came up with the idea that perhaps the school board isn't getting the right "dope" on the enthusiasm for a baseball program. In a Page One editorial, the Dixini said this:

Why should a school the size of Dixon high school not have a baseball team?

A proposed baseball program was turned down this year by the board of education for two reasons—(1) a lack of interest and (2) a survey of surrounding area schools said much difficulty would be encountered in setting up a program.

These facts were presented to the board by Principal B. J. Frazer. Athletic Director A. C. Bowers helped with the survey.

We have investigated this problem and found the following:
(1) In a survey conducted earlier this year by the DIXINI it was found that 59 per cent of the boys interviewed would turn out for baseball and that 51 per cent preferred baseball to the other spring sports.

(2) That a number of schools in a 60-mile radius have baseball. These are not only small schools like Ashton, Pawpaw and Byron, but large schools such as West Rockford, Sycamore, and Freeport.

Another problem which has been brought up is that players couldn't go out for two spring sports, because it would hurt both track and the proposed baseball team. Why couldn't the boys do both? Three boys on the West Rockford track team play baseball, and a fellow named Trapp from Sycamore, who was good enough to qualify for the state finals in the 100-yard dash, plays baseball.

What the DIXINI proposes is not a summer baseball program which failed here in Dixon, but spring baseball, which would be another sport like track, tennis and golf.

One of the reasons summer baseball failed was a lack of interest, but a lot of boys were tired after working all day in the summer. Spring baseball practice could and should be right after school like track or any other sport. If a person likes a sport he will participate in it. Surely, a baseball team would not take away from other spring sports, which have proved popular with many boys.

We feel confident that a spring baseball program would succeed at Dixon high school if run on a high level. Baseball is ranked high on the list of sports with everybody and we think that the students of Dixon high school should have a chance to play it.

Cards Resemble Browns While Playing at Home

By BEN PHILEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The way the St. Louis Cardinals have been playing at home this season you'd almost think they were trying to help the fans remember the old Browns.

In 22 games at home this season the Cardinals have won only 10. A week ago today they came home from their first long Eastern trip in first place. Thursday night they hustled out of town in second division. Between times they had dropped five out of seven to Cincinnati and Chicago, both lower bracket clubs, and skidded from first to fifth.

14-Hit Attack
The Phillies' 14-hit attack against five Dodgers pitchers included home runs by Johnny Wyrostek, Willie Jones and Earl Torgerson.

Don Newcombe, making his first start after missing two turns because of arm trouble, lasted only 2 1/2 innings and was charged with his third loss. He's won three.

In Washington the Yankees looked bad, committing three errors that led to six unearned runs. Lefty Chuck Stobbs gave up nine hits but was never in serious trouble after Washington batted around for five runs in the fifth.

Garver Superb
Detroit scored four runs in the first inning against the Orioles and Ned Garver never gave the Birds a chance to catch up.

An error by Bobby Young on a potential double-play ball opened the flood gates in the first. Young later homered for the only Baltimore run.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Young Peter Thomson of Australia and two of the most famous names in American golf—Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan—headed the field in that order today as the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament moved into its second round.

Thomson was amazing with his putter as he fashioned a 4-under-par 66 Thursday to take the lead by a stroke over Nelson, the tall Texan who has been in semiretirement for eight years, and by three strokes over Hogan.

Thomson, using only 25 putts and carded six birdies.

Iowa Snarls Big 10 Grid Schedule

Refuses to Give Up Irish As Season-Ending Opponent

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—The mapping of Big Ten football schedules for 1957 and 1958 by conference coaches and athletic directors has been stymied by Iowa's refusal to drop Notre Dame as a season-closing opponent.

Other Big Ten members reportedly want the Hawkeyes to drop the Irish for a "natural" season-ending game with Michigan State College.

"I would urge Iowa to continue with its closing game with Notre Dame if the matter is brought to my attention," Paul Blommers, Iowa faculty representative, said Thursday. He indicated Iowa would stand firm.

Only 5 Loop Games
Iowa, whose 14-14 tie with Notre Dame last year greatly enhanced box office value of the series for years to come, tentatively is booked for only five conference games in each 1957 and 1958.

The required minimum is six league games per season unless special permission is given. This permission is unlikely in Iowa's case because Ohio State and Illinois are said to have open dates which Iowa could fill in those years.

Other Big Ten members reportedly care little if Iowa plays Notre Dame earlier in the season. But athletic director Paul Brechler of Iowa is firm in his stand that the school wants to meet the Irish "only on the closing date and has a 'verbal agreement' with the Irish to do so.

A closing game with Notre Dame gives Iowa a chance to concentrate on conference competition before tackling a toughie like the Irish.

State Anxious
Michigan State is said to be anxious for a closing game with Iowa and reportedly wants to drop Marquette, an old independent rival, as a final foe.

Conference schedules already are drawn for 1955 and 1956. Four Big Ten championship meets for 1955 were set. The swimming meet will be at Ohio State March 3-5; wrestling and gymnastics at Minnesota March 4-5 and fencing at Wisconsin March 5.

Speedway Drivers Expect Stiff Pace

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Drivers in the 500-mile auto race field Monday expect the early pace to be about 136 miles an hour, three miles faster than Bill Vukovich's record in the first hundred miles of his winning effort last year.

They haven't said so, but they finished fuel and carburetion tests Thursday with short runs at 136 to 138. In the late tests, the drivers run at what they guess the race speed will be, to give them a check on their engines at a competitive pace.

All of the 33 qualified cars got through the preliminaries without accidents.

Hurricane Meets Norkus Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Tommy Jackson, deflated by "spoiler" Jimmy Slade in his last start, gets one more chance to fight against slugger Charley Norkus.

Jackson's first Madison Square Garden main event will start at 8 p.m. (CST) with radio (ABC) and television (NBC) coverage.

The Hurricane rode high with victories over Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni until Slade made him look like a novice.

Trucking Business Eyes Rails, Seas, Skies

TRUCK TRAFFIC ON THE WATERWAYS is already moving by river barge and vessels like the converted LST (above). Big new plan is for ships to carry trailers up and down Atlantic coast.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There's a revolution imminent in the trucking industry.

The U.S. Interstate Commerce Commission is currently studying two applications which could open the door to a major shift of truck transportation from the highways to the waterways and railroads, and perhaps into the air.

Depending on ICC findings, the requests could lead to a complete integration of all continental freight traffic on a radically different competitive basis.

In one case the ICC is being asked to permit the second largest trucking firm in the East to purchase a steamship and tug-and-barge line which now operates along the Atlantic coast.

The McLean trucking firm is seeking to take over the S. C. Loveland steamship line to create what is called a "Sea-Land" service. The idea is that it's cheaper to move loaded trailers between north and south points on the coast with big ships than it is to run them along the highway.

The proposed $50,000,000 plan would combine the door-to-door service of trucks with the economy of water transportation.

If ICC approves the idea McLean will place an order with Bethlehem Steel for four specially-designed ships capable of carrying 285 trailers at speeds close to 30 miles per hour.

The Army transportation corps is going to the ICC in behalf of this proposal as a defense measure. It means that both coastal and highway transportation will be more flexible. And the army has been concerned about the decline in the number of coastal cargo ships from 490 in 1938, to 196 as of now.

ICC approval of this idea could also spur additional use of the 28,000 miles of inland waterways which exist in the U.S. Some boat hauling of truck trailers is already being done.

Still another idea, which would be advanced by ICC approval of the McLean application, is the plan of Fairchild Aircraft Corp. to fly truck trailer "pods" under its XC-120 cargo planes. Loaded pods can be moved along the highway by truck tractors to landing fields, picked up by XC-120s, flown to the airfield nearest the destination and moved by tractors again to the customer's door.

Many truck farmers, for instance, are discovering that the extra cost of air freight is economical when it's a question of getting produce to a favorable market. Extra cost of faster transportation is frequently made up by the ability to keep inventories lower, many industries are discovering.

Railroads have been moving truck trailers over various routes for many years in a "piggy back" operation. But there has never been a firm government policy on regulating it.

To settle this matter the ICC is holding hearings late in June to get the opinions of all interested parties. Specifically, it's to come up with policy answers to 12 questions on the subject posed by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

ICC's eventual rulings could be a major shot in the arm to the piggy back idea. Many railroads, including the New York Central, have studied possibilities of greatly expanding truck hauling if given favorable conditions by the ICC.

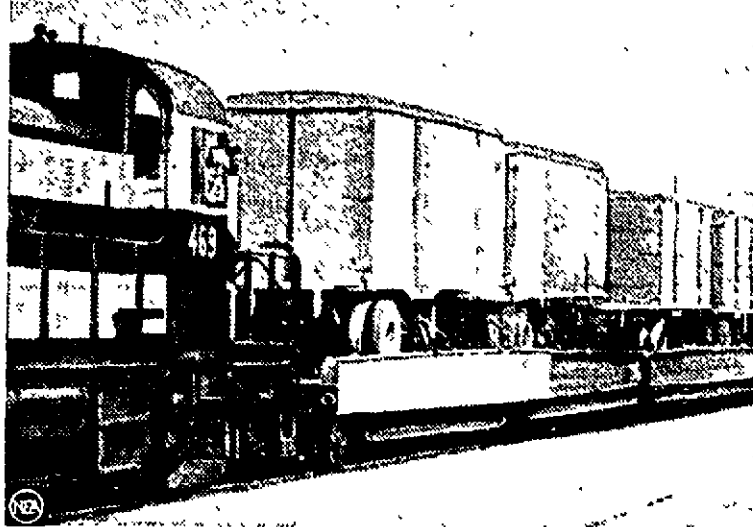

The questions the New Haven wants answered cover all phases of piggy back hauling: Can a railroad own its own trucks and exclude truck lines from the service? Can the service be handled on one bill of lading? Can railroads and trucking companies get together and set up schedules of rates? How should profits between railroad and truck firm be divided?

The piggy back idea has numerous advantages. Commuter lines, like the New Haven, can use their roadbeds and locomotives for hauling trucks at night. And the highways which New Haven parallels are jammed for truck traffic.

On many long hauls railroad transportation is cheaper than movement by highway. Piggy backing combines this cheapness with the conveniences to the shipper of trucking.

AIRBORNE TRUCKS, already tried out by air force, would be carried as "pods" beneath Fairchild XC-120 cargo aircraft.

PIGGY BACK TRUCKS now move on flatcars on many railroads. Rulings by ICC could be a major boost to rail-truck traffic.

Only trucks now can haul frozen fruits from the west coast because their mechanical refrigerating can guarantee the necessary temperatures. Iced railroad cars can't meet this specification. But if the cold trucks could ride the freight cars, everybody including the consumer would save money.

Psychiatrist Says Hearings A Good Field

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—A psychiatrist says that watching the McCarthy-army hearings on television has given him greater insight into psychiatric research than he could have gained in two years of case study in a mental hospital. Dr. Wilbur R. Miller, director of the Psychopathic hospital of the University of Iowa City, said his point was that research and study of mental problems should be directed on the normal rather than the abnormal individual. Dr. Miller spoke at the Midwest regional conference of the Council of State Governments.

Polo Vacation Bible School Opens Tuesday

POLO—Because Memorial day is being observed Monday, the daily vacation Bible school will begin on Tuesday. The school will continue for two weeks, meeting from 9 until 11:30 a.m.

The kindergarten will have a supervised play period from 11 until 11:30 a.m. so that they may return home with older brothers and sisters.

On the morning of the final day there will be a special recreation period. In the evening there will be open house and a program for all parents and friends.

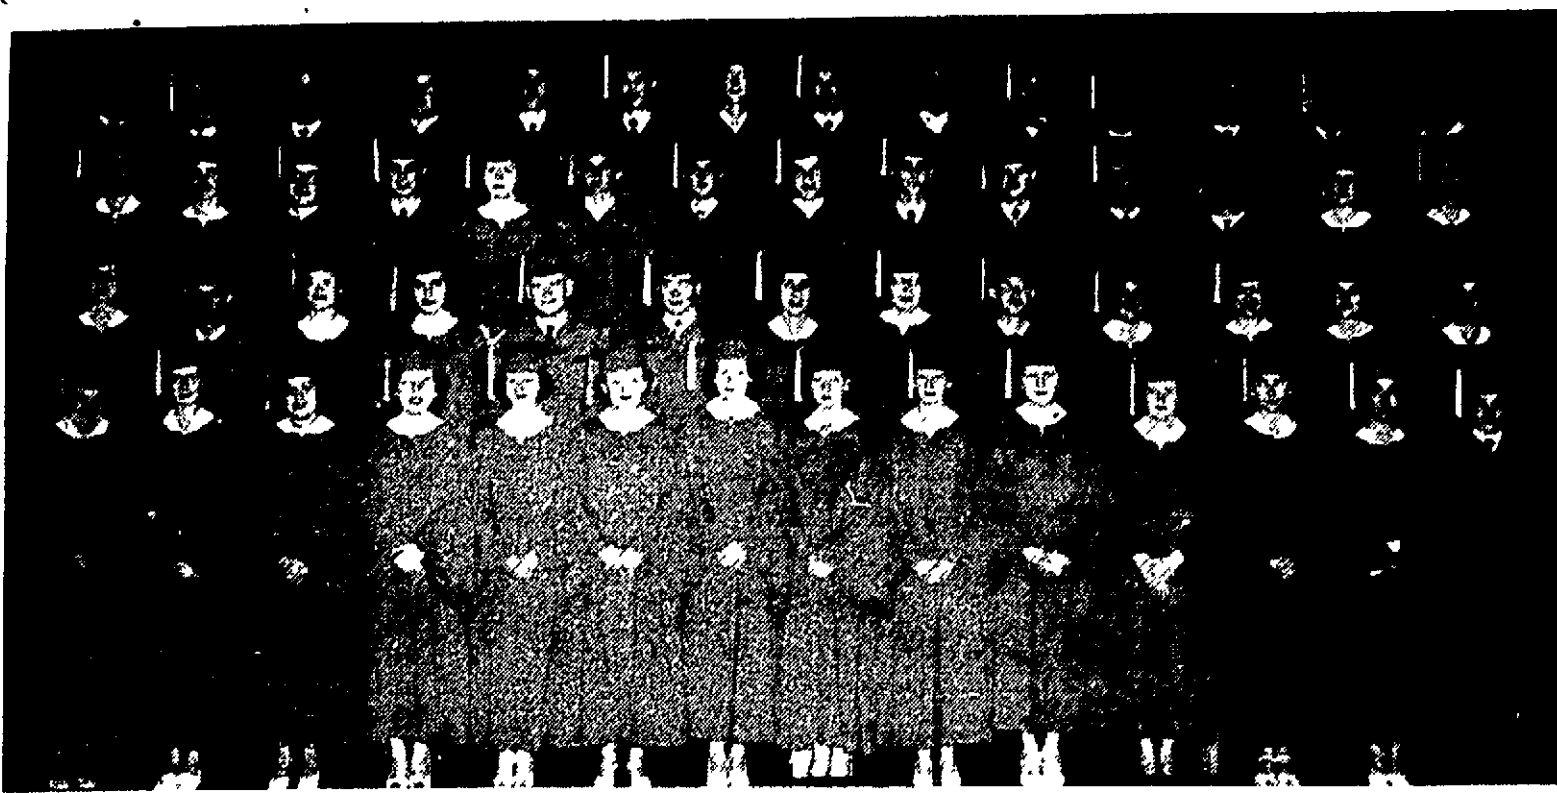

The general theme of the school this year is "The Church." A third grade teacher has not been secured, but will be announced later. Other teachers are Mrs. R. A. Williamson, first grade; Mrs. Harold Woodin, second grade; Mrs. Frank Wales, fourth grade; Mrs. Albert Summers, fifth grade; Mrs. Thomas Wiggins, sixth, seventh and eighth grades and Dorothy Bowers, kindergarten.

Others on the staff are the Rev. D. J. Schuylerman, director of the school; Mrs. Schuylerman, curriculum and staff; Albert Iskey, safety patron; Mrs. R. H. Kuehl, art director and assistant to Miss Bowers; the Rev. Ira Wilson, assistant director of the school and visual education; Dr. K. E. Irvin, in charge of chapel arrangements and the last day treat; the Rev. Hubert Newcomer, supplies and finance day program. The Rev. Davies, the Rev. Shearer and the Rev. Cole will participate in chapel services and elsewhere as needed.

Set Concert In Mt. Morris

MT. MORRIS—Mt. Morris school band will open the summer concert Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The school band will also play on June 5. The Kable band will continue throughout the summer months.

The personnel of the band is made up of students from the eighth grade and senior high school. The director is Wayne Johnson, who teaches all of the instrumental music in the Mt. Morris schools.

News Notes of Steward Area

STEWART—Mrs. Oletta Larson Oksnevad, Stavanger, Norway, flew May 22 from her home in Norway to the Chicago airport, where her four sons, Lars, Steward, John, Rockford; Leif, Malta, and Hanson, Minneapolis, were on hand to meet her. She plans to spend several months here with her sons and families. Sunday she was the honored guest when about 10 relatives were gathered in her honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Eber, Rochelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Winters, Shannon, and Joe Winters, Lunark, were Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Mrs. John Phipps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Struwwidge and Gary, Janet and Kay were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Struwwidge, Malta.

Area Communities Plan Memorial Observances

Dr. Jones Is Speaker For Amboy

AMBOY — The Memorial day program will be held at the Amboy high school gymnasium Monday at 10:30 a.m. Music will be furnished by the Amboy high school band.

The program will open with a prayer by Reverend Edward J. Lehman, Sublette, and the Pledge of Allegiance by the Boy Scouts of Troop 63. A moment of silence will be observed, before the welcome by Kenneth Spitz, American Legion commander.

The Gettysburg Address will be given by Mrs. Allison Blake, and the reading of General Logan's Memorial day orders by the WRC. Irene Westcott and Mrs. Charles Elliott will sing "God Bless America." Their accompanist will be Mrs. O. N. Eckburg, Mayor John P. Walsh will give a talk. Then the guest speaker Dr. O. C. Jones, will give his address. This will be followed by the grave ceremony in which all veteran's organizations will take part.

Steward to Hold Service On Sunday

STEWART—Memorial day services will be held in Steward Methodist church at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. The service will be combined with the morning service of worship. Special music will be provided by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Lyle Kersten. William Jones will sing a solo. The Rev. Joe E. Caldwell, pastor of the church, will give the Memorial day sermon.

The cemetery ritual will be in charge of Irvin Arne, assisted by other veterans. Scouts of Troop 61 will provide a color guard for the flag. Lucile Noyes, Mrs. Ora Chambers and Mrs. L. D. Hemenway are in charge of flower arrangements.

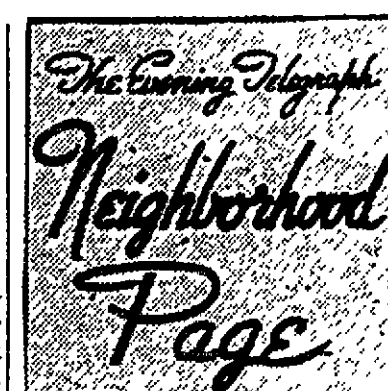

Because of the Memorial service, the Steward Sunday school will begin at 9:30 a.m. and dismiss at 10:20 a.m.

Wreath Committee To Meet in Ohio

OHIO — The committee in charge of making wreaths for Memorial day will meet at the high school Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Any-one having flowers that they care to contribute may bring them to the school or call Mrs. Marion Ahrens or Esther Hickey who will pick them up.

Schedule Mass

Mass will be held in St. Michael's chapel, Sandy Hill, May township, Monday at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Pettet officiating.

Friday, May 28, 1954
Page 10

Parade Will Be Feature In Oregon

OREGON — Memorial day services will be held in Oregon Monday. Organizations and groups will meet at the Coliseum at 10 a.m., and will parade to the courthouse at 10:30 a.m. where post commanders and Oregon's mayor will place wreaths on World War I and World War II memorials in the square. Wreaths also will be placed on the Civil war and Spanish-American war memorials.

The parade will continue to the cemetery on Third street. Wilbur Cilne is to be parade marshal.

Fred Deuth will be master of ceremonies for the program in the cemetery. The high school band and the Oregon "Chords" will provide music. The Rev. Anderson will give the address, and Roy Humphreys will give the invocation and benediction. Woman's Relief corps will conduct memorial rites and Girl Scouts will place flowers on graves. A firing squad of the American Legion and VFW will give the salute to the dead.

The parade will reform after the program, and return to the Coliseum. Organizations taking part will be veterans groups, patriotic organizations, civic officials, Scouts and school students.

Ogle county offices will be closed Monday. June 1 is the penalty date for first installment real estate and personal property taxes. They may be paid in the county treasurer's office until noon Saturday without penalty.

Rev. John Burritt Will Be Speaker In Ohio Monday

OHIO — Memorial day services in Ohio will be held in the school auditorium Monday at 2 p.m. The Rev. John Burritt, pastor of First Lutheran church, Ohio, will give the address, and music will be furnished by the high school band and mixed chorus.

Services will be conducted at Union and St. Mary's cemeteries by the American Legion with the school children decorating the graves of servicemen.

The Ohio township Library will be closed Monday in observance of Memorial Day.

Mt. Morris Vets to Go To Church

MT. MORRIS — (Special) — As has been the custom in past years, the members of the Mt. Morris V.F.W. and the American Legion will attend church Sunday in the Brethren church. A parade and services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Members of both organizations are asked to meet in front of the Brethren church not later than 9:40 a.m.

This custom has been practiced in Mt. Morris for quite a number of years, and is in the form of a memorial service in which the veterans meet on the Sunday before Memorial Day, attend church as a body and pause to pay tribute to their departed comrades.

Both Commander Orval Hixcox of the Legion and Don McCready of the V.F.W. have urged all veterans to attend with the following in mind, "Gave at least one hour for those who gave eternity."

During the Monday services Mary Ellen Floca will recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Sylvia Zickuhr will give "In Flanders Field" and Clarence Tracy will sing "The Lord's Prayer."

Hixcox will be the main speaker.

Polo Veterans Plan Memorial Parade Sunday

POLO — Memorial services here will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and their auxiliaries will meet in Illinois Central park and march to Fairmount cemetery where services will be held.

The high school band will also march as well as Boy and Girl Scouts and Brownies. Transportation will be furnished for Gold Star Mothers.

Carl Yost, Morrison, past commander of the 12th district, will be guest speaker.

Choose Officers For Dixon FFA

DIXON CHAPTER of Future Farmers of America held their last meeting of the 1953-54 year Wednesday, and elected officers. They are Dave Emmert, president; Melvin Heckman, vice president; Rod Knoll, secretary; John Rhodes, treasurer; Ernie Rhodes, sentinel, and Jim Saunders, reporter.

James Glessner was presented the DeKalb award.

The chapter decided to make a trip to the Wisconsin state fair later this summer.

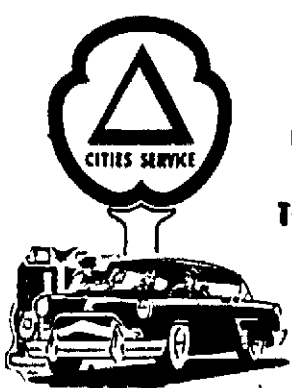

WCTU TO MEET

POLO—WCTU will meet June 1 in the home of Mrs. Charles Begeman. Mrs. Nannie Bainhizer will be in charge of the devotional period, and Lillian Poole will present the program.

NEW!
Fully Automatic Wire Tie
OLIVER Model 100 BALER

New...completely automatic! For big capacity production...speed and economy, you can't find a finer, more durable baler than the new Oliver Model 100.

Here is a baler that really saves. The floating pick-up unit is leaf tight...saves those valuable protein-laden leaves. Wire threading takes less than 5 minutes...saves you precious field time. And, Oliver's short knot is turned in so it won't snag...you'll save footage and dollars.

Come in and see the new Oliver 100 Baler. Inspect the sturdy "straight through" construction. See the "out-of-wire" signal system that automatically stops the engine when the wire runs out. Note, too, the four synchronized feeding units that give the Oliver 100 Baler extra tonnage and speed.

380 Will Die in Memorial Day Weekend

An estimate, based on past three-day Memorial Day weekends, says that 380 people will die in highway accidents during this year's long holiday. The estimate, by the Association of Casualty and Surety companies, also says that of the 380 fatal accidents, 210 will be due to excessive speeding and alcohol. Illustrated below are the most common highway accidents and their relation to the 380 total.

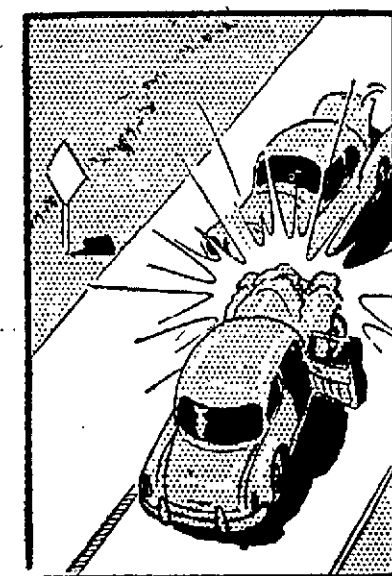

SPEEDING will be responsible for 126 of the predicted 380 Memorial Day weekend highway accident deaths.

OVERDOING IT with alcohol will contribute to the deaths of 84 persons, both motorists and pedestrians.

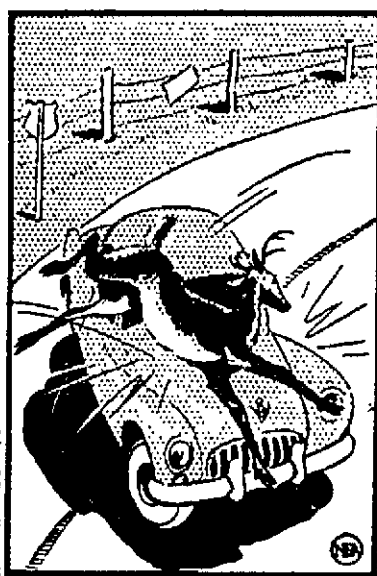

RIGHT OF WAY ignored is expected to result in Memorial Day weekend accidents that will kill 27 people.

FAILURE to keep to right of center line is a prominent cause of highway accidents. Expected toll: 38 dead.

SLEEPING at the wheel, or overfatigue is a subtle danger and is expected to claim 24 victims.

ACCIDENTS caused by miscellaneous factors will kill the final 81 of the predicted 380 total.

Lady Farmer Is Woman's Club Head

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. — Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, a lady farmer who prefers to let other women do the talking, will become president of a worldwide organization of 11 million women.

She has been nominated without opposition to head the General Federation of Women's Clubs, holding its annual convention next week in Denver, Colo.

A widow, Mrs. Chapman has no children and lives alone in a 14-room, vine covered brick house on a 270-acre grain farm in the Illinois river valley.

Club work, serving on hospital and school boards, and keeping an eye on the farm's operation fill up her time. She has a manager to run the farm but she says she makes the major decisions.

"We consult on such things as the budget, hiring, and whether to raise cattle," she decided last year that cattle raising had become unprofitable for her because feed was too expensive. Corn, barley and wheat, plus 600 pigs a year, represent the farm's output.

Mrs. Chapman, who is 50, says

Hudson Moves Manufacturing Out of Detroit

DETROIT — An auto dynasty prepared today to shift principal operations from its traditional Detroit location to new sites in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis.

American Motors Corp., the nation's fourth largest auto firm, announced Thursday its Hudson assembly lines will be moved out of Detroit in six months.

Hudson recently merged with Nash-Kelvinator to form American Motors.

The latest move will affect about half of Hudson's 8,600 Detroit employees, already being advised by letter.

George W. Mason, president of American Motors, disclosed the shift of operations after a meeting of his firm's executives with top officials of the CIO United Auto Workers headed by Walter Reuther.

The corporation's Nash models already are assembled at its Wisconsin plants. Mason said the firm's 1955 Hudsons will be the first assembled at Milwaukee and Kenosha.

Reuther had no comment Thursday on the moving plans, but there were indications that questions of seniority would arise over workers rights in claiming jobs in Wisconsin.

Mason said Hudson plants in Detroit will continue to produce engines and other parts. He said Hudson's defense work will continue in Detroit.

American Motors also builds Kelvinator and Leonard electric appliances in Detroit and Grand Rapids. It builds laundry equipment at its Peoria, Ill., AEC plant.

St. Louis Red Trial Near Jury

ST. LOUIS — The trial of five Communists on charges of conspiring to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government—the longest trial on record in federal district court here—was expected to go to a jury today.

Final arguments were completed Thursday in the trial, which began Jan. 25. Both the prosecution and defense discussed undercover agents for the FBI who testified for the government.

Lafayette E. Broome, chief government prosecutor, said the FBI informants had performed "a valuable and patriotic service."

Mrs. Mary Kaufmann, a defense attorney, told the jury: "Historians have evaluated the role of informers. Perjury is their stock in trade. They are a loathsome tribe."

The defendants are William Senter, Robert Manewitz, Marcus A. Murphy, James F. Forest and his wife, Dorothy.

Under the Smith Act, the charge is punishable by a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

World's largest offshore fishing grounds are the Grand Banks, off Newfoundland.

Australians To Choose Path Of Government

SYDNEY, Australia — An all-time record of more than five million voters will decide in general parliamentary elections Saturday whether Australia will continue under the present free enterprise coalition or return to socialism.

Despite the fact this is the prime issue in the voting for 123 members of Australia's lower chamber, the House of Representatives, it has been the quietest election campaign since the end of World War II.

Voting in Australia is compulsory, and those eligible who fail to go to the polls are subject to fines.

The most powerful opposition to the Conservative Menzies government is the Labor party. The Laborites were in control in Australia throughout World War II and until 1949, when they were ousted by the present coalition. Former Foreign Minister Dr. Herbert V. Evatt is the Laborite leader.

In the last general election in April 1951, Labor won 54 seats and the Liberals only 52, making it necessary for Menzies to lean on the small Country party for an additional 17 seats to control Parliament. The Country party claims to represent the interests of farmers and residents of rural districts.

Combat Photog, Always Gambler, Loses Life as He Stretches Luck Too Far

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"I am a gambler," once wrote Robert Capa, whose gambling is now over.
Bob, whom many regard as the best combat photographer of his generation, explained the douch-boy pictorially as ably as his friend, Ernie Pyle, did in words.
This week Capa met Ernie's fate. He stretched a gambler's luck too far, went to one too many wars. A land mine caught him in some obscure town in Indochina, and turned a fine man into a great memory.

War upstart, as Bob himself has said, is "dreary and unspectacular." There is little to catch the camera's eye, but Capa had the high art of being at the right spot at the right moment to catch the unforgettable picture.

Bob was an exponent of "the big chance." He had seen so much of war that the routine of it bored him. But on the big stories—the paratroop drops in Sicily and Germany, the invasion landings at Anzio and Normandy, the relief of besieged Bastogne—Capa liked to be in the first wave, although he was as afraid of death as most men are.

In his autobiography, "Slightly
Out of Focus," he tells of brooding over what chances to take in the Normandy landing—whether to go ashore with the first troops or wait until the beaches were safer.
"I am a gambler. I decided to go in with company E in the first wave."

He did go in—on deadly Omaha beach. He survived, came back with 106 action pictures taken on that death-strewn stretch of tide and sand. But a darkroom assistant burned up all but eight negatives while drying them. If life hadn't already turned Capa into a philosopher, this experience would have soured him. It didn't.

Bob's weakness was poker, and with a losing hand he could swear unintelligible oaths in five tongues
—English, French, Spanish, German, and his native Hungarian.
"I believe he wrote his own epitaph better when he told of taking pictures during the bitter struggle for Troina in Sicily.

"They were simple pictures and showed how dreary and unspectacular fighting actually is. Scoops depend on luck and quick transmission, and most of them don't mean anything the day after they are published. But the soldier who looks at the shots of Troina, 10 years from now in his home in Ohio, will be able to say, 'That's how it was.'"

Few historians of war will ever be able to give the real feel of it as well as Capa did with his camera.

Sen. McCarthy One Year Older, Says Who's Who Listing

CHICAGO (AP)—The age of Sen.
McCarthy (R-Wis.) appears in dispute. Is he 41 or 45 years old?
The next edition of Who's Who in America will list him as having been born a year earlier than in current and past issues. Publishers said the data normally is supplied by the subjects in Who's Who and McCarthy's date of birth was given as Nov. 11, 1909.

But publishers said the Wisconsin Bureau of Vital Statistics certified he was born on Nov. 4, 1908, the date they will use in their next issue.

Chinchilla Breeder Held For Mail Fraud

CHICAGO (AP)—The government says chinchillas don't breed as fast as Dan Hallock told customers of his Chicago mail order firm.

A 12-count indictment charging Hallock with using the mails to defraud and violating the securities and exchange act was returned Thursday by a Federal Grand Jury.

Asst. U. S. Atty. James P. Pirragine said Hallock defrauded $400-000 from persons buying chinchil-las from his Chinchilla, Inc., firm.
Pirragine said Hallock promised buyers who paid him $850 a pair for the animals that:

1. An investor who purchased a pair would make a profit of $47,540 and have stock worth $22,750 at the end of eight years, because chinchil-las multiply so fast.

2. His company would buy back offspring for $50 a pair.

The government said chinchillas do not multiply that fast—that, in fact, they do not breed the first year and eight to ten per cent never breed. It also charged the company had no reserve funds with which to buy back offspring.

Fire 7 GE Employees On Loyalty

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—
Seven suspended General Electric Co. employees were fired automatically today under provisions of the firm's loyalty policy.

The seven, who worked at the main GE plant here, invoked the Fifth Amendment at an open hearing before Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).
They were identified by witnesses at the Senate investigations subcommittee hearing in Albany last
Feb. 19 and 20 as having attended
Communist party meetings.

On Feb. 26, GE suspended the seven without loss of pay under the loyalty policy established last December. They would have been reinstated had they appeared before a government authority and answered all questions as if they had been cleared by a government security agency.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Voice of the People

Dixon, Ill.
May 24, 1954

Dear Editor:

We are a couple of teenage girls who are writing this for the benefit of anyone who ever condemned teenagers of today.

We'd like to turn the tables and tell you what we think of the examples older folks make for us.
One of the favorite gripes of today people is how teenagers of today drink. I wonder if they ever stop to think of all the working men who get their checks on pay day and make a mad dash to the taverns and they don't come out until the place closes or else they're out of money. Believe me they're not all teenagers, a lot of these men have families.

Then, too, another one of their favorite topics of conversation is how teenagers park until all hours of the night. We admit teenagers park, we're silly to say they don't, because everyone knows they do, but maybe if the truth were known they aren't all teenagers. We know because we saw several couples old enough to be either one of us girls' folks parked out on dark roads. Yes, we were with a young man, you'd have been disappointed if we weren't, but it so happens he was the husband of one of us and the uncle of the other.
Again I suppose you were wondering what we were doing out on a gravel road late at night. Well you see we all live together in an upstairs apartment at the edge of town. About 8:30 p.m., we decided to go and have a rootbeer before retiring for the day, and we were taking a short cut to the stand.

What about it the rest of you teenagers, what do you think?

We aren't condemning all folks older than us. There are some who are tops, we're proud to include our folks there. Then there are some who don't set very good examples.

If I agree there are some teen-rest of us teenagers, but don't condemn all of us because of them.

Two Teenagers

Dixon, Ill.

May 26, 1954

From one taxpayer to another:
The ad which appeared in The Telegraph regarding the sale of the Truman school property again raises the question: WHY?

It is generally known that the proposed Retarded Children's school is desirous of using this property to establish a school for these children who cannot come up to the standards as set by the public school system. They are taxpayers. They are children who as every American is, are entitled to be trained or educated to the fullest extent of their capabilities.

The taxpayers have already paid for this school and even though they have voted to have this school property sold because our school board stated that they had no use for it—does that keep the school trustees and the public from permitting this North Cen. Ill. Assoc.
for the Aid of Retarded Children from having the right to have the property sold to them at a minimum bid to make it legal?

The firms that have offered materials and labor are all taxpayers in Dixon. They are willing to put more of their money into a building that is already paid for by them. Should it be necessary for more money to be put into what is already the taxpayers'?

Yes, we know many might say these children aren't the responsibility of the board of education—but, yes, they could be and at a greater cost than it would be to let them have the school at a minimum or token bid. The law says
ALL children are entitled to an education, but standards have been set up and unless the children meet these standards, nothing is provided.

We make an earnest plea that everyone get back of this project and see that it is not necessary to use money which can be used for the remodeling and other necessary expenses for purchasing something which should rightfully have been donated to them by the board in the beginning.

—The Dixon Evening Telegraph, which has the distinction of serving a large area in northern Illinois, can well boast of the pulling power of the advertisements carried by Dixon merchants every day in the week. Dixon merchants are more than advertising minded. Their efforts in this line have lured many from considerable distance. Our stores carry up-to-date merchandise, our fine grocery stores, of which there are many, are of the very best. Our merchants have proved themselves trustworthy and reliable and The Dixon Evening pride and satisfaction that its subscription list has continued to yearly grow way back from 1850. It.

Businessmen Optimistic in Face of National Slump

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are talking up good times today.

They are doing so in the face of current statistics which as yet don't prove their thesis. The national figures on production and jobs and sales show merely that after months of sliding, their decline now has slowed down.

But many businessmen are saying that although the pace of trade and manufacturing isn't feverish now, and may even drag a little in the hot months, prospects for good times are good.

Here are some of their predictions of the last day or two:

U. S. Steel's chairman, Benjamin F. Fairless, says business has picked up a little in recent days and he looks for his company's rate of production, which has risen to better than 70 per cent of capacity, to hold around that level for the rest of the year.

Inland Steel's chairman of the executive committee, Edward L.
Ryerson, says his mills are operating near capacity now because they're in the Chicago region where the market is good. He thinks the full rate will continue for a while.

Jersey Standard Oil's president,
M. J. Rathbone, says his company plans to sell more oil this year than last, and make more money doing it. The company now does about 15 per cent of all the oil business in the non-Communist world and is out to increase that share if it can.

Rathbone goes along with other oil executives who are forecasting that Americans will consume from 2 to 3 per cent more oil products this year than last. He says the rest of the world will do even better and chalk up a gain of around 7 per cent this year.

Food profits look good, too.
Lansing P. Shield, president of the Grand Union Co., says people are eating more and his stores are selling more. He predicts the company's sales will increase to an annual rate of 250 million dollars by the end of the year.

Mounted Police Attacked by Cult Women, 4 Jailed

GRAND FORKS, B. C. (AP)—Fifteen Royal Canadian mounted police men escorting a nun officer were attacked by 50 stone-throwing Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women near here Thursday.

Four of the women were arrested on assault charges, immediately taken to Nelson, B. C., 60 miles to the northeast, tried and sentenced to two months in jail.

The fracas occurred at Gilpin, a Freedomite settlement, when the Mounted accompanied Ralph McIntosh into the town so he could read a proclamation.

McIntosh lost an encounter with 20 nude women who scratched and clawed him Wednesday when he attempted alone to read his proclamation ordering the villagers to send their children to school.

The Sons of Freedom sect objects to sending children to Canadian schools on the grounds the schools teach militarism.

Sen. Smith Wants Carr, Hensel Cases Reinstated

Personalities Stand Out At Capital Hearing Table

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) joined Democrats today in demands that the Senate Investigations subcommittee reverse its dismissal of Francis P. Carr and H. Stuvé Hensel as principals in the McCarthy-Army dispute.

The dismissal was voted 4-3 by Republican members of the subcommittee, and Smith proposed in an interview that the Senate Republican Policy Committee review the decision which Democrats have threatened to carry to the Senate floor.

"I think the committee made a critically serious mistake," Smith said. "Both men should be put on the witness stand."

Cohn Recalled

Roy M. Cohn was recalled to the stand for the start of this 23rd day of the televised hearings to complete his direct testimony and probably face cross-examination.

Cohn told the committee Thursday that Army Counselor John C. Adams had tried to "blackmail" him and his boss, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), into dropping an investigation of alleged Communists in the Army.

In his account, which directly contradicted earlier sworn testimony by Adams and Secretary of the Army Stevens on half a dozen major points, Cohn frequently named Carr as having attended his talks with the Army officials.

The 27-year-old Cohn, chief counsel for the subcommittee, said he and Carr heard Adams offer them information about "sex deviates" in the Air Force if the subcommittee would sidetrack its hunt for Communists at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

He said Carr, chief of the subcommittee staff, was on hand when Secretary Stevens said, according to Cohn, he would "have to resign" if the inquiry were continued.

Accused of Pressure

Stevens and Adams have accused McCarthy, Cohn and Carr of exerting improper pressure to get favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former unpaid subcommittee consultant. Over Army objections, the subcommittee Wednesday dropped Carr as a principal.

Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, was named along with Stevens and Adams by the McCarthy camp as having sought to discredit the subcommittee. Stevens and Adams were accused as having tried to use Schine as a "hostage" to halt McCarthy's investigation of the Army. Neither Hensel nor McCarthy objected to the dismissal of Hensel as a principal.

Cohn also named Carr as having heard McCarthy tell Adams at a New York luncheon that the senator would not be silent if Stevens removed Maj. Gen. Elmer E. Lawton as commander at Ft. Monmouth. Cohn said Lawton's cooperation with the McCarthy committee brought on this proposal, which was never carried out.

Secret Report

Cohn told the subcommittee Thursday one factor which influenced the subcommittee to undertake a search for espionage in the army was a secret report prepared by Paul Crouch, self-described ex-Communist who has testified frequently before courts and congressional groups. Cohn said this report, prepared in March, 1953, said there were over 1,000 Reds in the armed forces.

Atty. Gen. Brownell told a news conference several hours later the Justice department is studying allegations that Crouch gave directly contradictory testimony at two federal court trials. Crouch is a consultant to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Brownell said also he has asked any intelligence to let him know what it learns about how material from secret army files came into McCarthy's hands. The senator weeks ago produced a document which Brownell said repeated language in a secret FBI report to the army and should not be made public. It has not formally been introduced in the hearings.

Invites Indictment

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) questioned Thursday whether McCarthy's possession of the document was a violation of the law. McCarthy said if anyone wants to indict him, "let them go ahead." He has said he got the paper from an army officer he declined to name.

Cohn, a rapid-fire witness, told the subcommittee Thursday of events he said led up to the alleged "blackmail" effort by Adams.

He said that last Jan. 22, after Adams had visited McCarthy's apartment, McCarthy told him the army counselor was trying to pull "a neat little trick of blackmail" and saying that unless we killed the investigation there would be spread around about me (Cohn) a report that would be embarrassing to me. Cohn said McCarthy had refused to yield.

Ray H. Jenkins, subcommittee special counsel, noted Adams had testified that the next day he began preparation of a chronology of events in the Schine matter which formed a basis for the army's formal charges.

Both Agree

Cohn and the earlier army witnesses agreed on one major point: that the McCarthy subcommittee's insistence on calling members of a top army loyalty board before it caused the break in relations. But they didn't agree on how this came about.

Cohn said Adams told him the subpoenas presented "very, very great problems to him and that he would have to stop at nothing to see that the investigation was killed at that point."

Previously, on Jan. 11, Cohn said, Adams came to his office and that:

"Mr. Adams said we were not cooperating with him and that he was going to show some examples of noncooperation, too, and how would we like it if Schine were ordered overseas."

"Didn't Care"

Cohn said he and Carr and others "made it clear we didn't care" if Schine were sent overseas.

Jenkins asked if Adams had made "a threat . . . to send Dave Schine overseas if you persisted in investigating Ft. Monmouth and in subpoenaing the members of the loyalty board?"

"I would say, sir, that is a sensible interpretation of what happened on that day," Cohn replied. Adams has contended that he was joking if he ever referred to Schine as a "hostage." Cohn said Adams "called him by that name, as 'The Hostage,' more frequently than he called him by the name of Schine."

Cohn described a Dec. 9 incident when Adams drew a map of the United States. He said Adams seemed convinced that the committee was going into a new investigation and made him this proposition:

"You mark on this map the location of the Army place which you are going to investigate next and I am going to mark down the location of an Air Force base where there are a large number of sex deviates which will make some very good hearings for your committee."

Rejected Idea

Cohn said he rejected the idea. Adams has denied he ever had or offered the subcommittee data involving the Navy or Air Force for possible investigation. Cohn said he recalled three such specific offers from Adams and one from Stevens, who also denied making any.

Jenkins told Cohn this might be regarded as "the most serious charge made by you and Sen. McCarthy."
